The banner features a photograph of a dirt road winding through a field of tall, golden-brown corn at sunrise or sunset. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a bright glow and long shadows. The text is overlaid on the left side of the image.

Since 1997, the Michigan Rural Health Conference has been the premier gathering for rural health professionals across the state. This annual event brings together a diverse group of stakeholders to engage in cutting-edge discussions, education, and networking opportunities designed to strengthen rural healthcare. This year the event will take place April 24-25 at the Soaring

This year's event theme, "Vision to Action: Rising Together" illustrates the power of creating a vision to excite stakeholders and using that energy to work and rise together. In rural communities, this concept is especially important to provide the inspiration and collaboration it takes to provide a health safety net that responds to the needs of a vast and diverse community.

Packed with content that is pertinent to rural healthcare in Michigan, this year the sessions include topics addressing Veteran issues, Chronic Care Management, Improving Rural Health Equity, and so much more! Take a moment to visit the conference website, review the agenda, and REGISTER to attend at this LINK.

Overdose Fatality Review Offers Data-Driven Response to Produce Community Change

Over the past couple of years, the NMORC team has been working with Michigan Public Health Institute (MPHI) to help bring "Overdose Fatality Review" (OFR) capabilities to our region. The goal of the program is to:

- Prevent overdose drug deaths by examining case-specific underlying circumstances involved;
- Actively seeking feedback from those with lived experience;
- Increasing connections between professionals serving individuals and families affected by substance use;
- And, providing data-driven recommendations to stakeholders at the community, state, and national levels.

More information on the MI OFR Program through MPHI can be found at this LINK.

NMORC Medical Director, David McGreaham, MD, together with Jodi Balhorn, NMRE SUD Prevention Coordinator provided these additional resources recently:

- Video OFR
- Examples of Recommendations from current Michigan OFR Teams
- Michigan Annual OFR Report
- Overdose Fatality Review—More information, tools, and resources are available online at <https://ofrtools.org>.
- OFR Webinars Recordings —All previously held OFR webinars are available online at: <https://www.ofrtools.org/learn/webinars>

- COSSUP Webinar Recordings and Podcasts—All previously held COSSUP webinars and podcasts are available online at <https://cossup.org/ResourceLibrary/WebinarsPodcasts>.
- Tailored Assistance—The COSSUP training and technical assistance (TTA) program offers a variety of learning opportunities and assistance to support BJA COSSUP grantees as well as local, tribal, and state organizations, stakeholders, and projects in building and sustaining multidisciplinary responses to the nation's substance abuse crisis. You do not need to be a COSSUP grantee to receive assistance. TTAs are provided in a variety of formats, including virtual and in-person training events, workshop and meeting presentations, and online resources.

If you are interested in starting an OFR in your county in the NMORC region, please feel free to reach out to Dr. David McGreaham for technical assistance at dsmcgreaham@gmail.com.

NMORC Work Saves Lives

One focus for the NMORC team is to increase awareness of Behavioral Health challenges which includes those raised by both mental health and substance use disorder. We educate on the benefits of recognizing signs of challenging behavior and how to deescalate the situation as well as recognizing an overdose and providing resources to combat opioid overdose in our region. That work encompasses a wide selection of targets including many organizations, public and private venues and audiences of all ages and professions - it is ongoing work and an important aspect of our mission.

Recently the team was invited to attend a recognition ceremony by the Grand Traverse Band of Odawa and Chippewa Indians to honor two security guards who were able to save the life of someone in need. A year ago, NMORC provided Mental Health First Aid certification training for both the Leelanau Sands and Turtle Creek campuses, where managers, frontline staff and security professionals learned how to recognize signs and symptoms of someone experiencing a behavioral health challenge.

Thanks to the swift thinking and actions of Security Supervisor Derrick Schwind and Christopher Shepard, a life was saved. NMORC is pleased to have played a small role in this situation - and are grateful for the ongoing work we do every day to raise awareness and provide resources to change outcomes for the better.
