Fast Facts

what can we do to provide better care to children?

What is a Pediatric Emergency Care Coordinator and why are they important?

definition

Pediatric Emergency Care Coordinator (PECC)

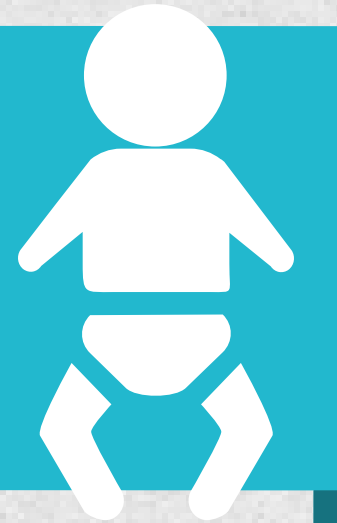

An individual or individuals who are responsible for coordinating pediatric-specific activities.

A designated individual who coordinates pediatric emergency care need not be dedicated solely to this role; it can be an individual already in place who assumes this role as part of their existing duties. The individual may be a member of your agency, or work at a county or region level and serve more than one agency.

What the research shows

the evidence

EMERGENCY CARE FOR CHILDREN GROWING PAINS

The Institute of Medicine 2007 publication “Emergency Care for Children: Growing Pains,” recommended that EMS agencies “appoint a pediatric emergency coordinator...to provide pediatric leadership for the organization.” This recommendation was based on findings that PECCs “are necessary to advocate for improved competencies and the availability of resources for pediatric patients.”

PHYSICIAN OVERSIGHT OF PEDIATRIC CARE IN EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES

In 2016, NAEMSP released a position statement which acknowledged that a PECC may augment the EMS system and advise the EMS medical director.

The conclusion of this 2017 systematic review is that an “EMS PECC facilitates the integration of pediatric needs into all aspects of EMS,” and that EMS agencies may benefit from having a PECC based upon results received from pediatric verification programs for emergency departments.
